The Vancouver Institute of Psychoanalysis will be offering a four-year course for psychoanalytic training. Completed Application forms are being accepted.

Prerequisites

We will be accepting applications for training from individuals with:

1. A medical degree or in the case of a non-medical applicant, a minimum qualification of a Masters Degree or equivalent.
2. At the time of the submission of the application the prospective candidate should have secured a Training Analyst of the Vancouver Institute of Psychoanalysis for 4 weekly sessions.
3. Clinical experience in the mental health field must be demonstrated or obtained.

Selection

The selection procedure will include consideration of the applicant's CV, letters of recommendation, professional experience, and a brief biographical letter stating their interest in psychoanalysis and what led them to this interest. Applicants will be required to have three interviews.

Training Program

The training will include four years of weekly lectures and seminars in the basic principles of psychoanalytic theory and practice, organized in two semesters annually.

Psychoanalytic Supervision

The student will be required to undertake the supervised analysis of three suitable analysands. A minimum of 160 supervision hours is required with different supervising analysts, at the rate of one supervisory session per week for each training case. One case must have 80 hours of supervision.

Fees

Fees for personal analysis and supervision will be negotiated between the candidate and the training analyst. Fees for lectures and seminars will be payable in advance, $900.00 for each semester . (i.e. $1,800 annually)
